4. Background

4.1 Occasionally social landlords have to evict tenants as a result of their failure to abide by the terms of the Tenancy Agreement. However, it should be noted that this is always a last resort and every attempt is made to avoid this situation.

As you would expect, by far the most common reason for eviction is failure to pay the rent. During the 6-month period April to September 2007 St. Leger Homes evicted 45 tenants for rent arrears and 2 for other reasons.

Eviction for reasons other than rent arrears are much less common for a number of reasons:

- Although there is a widespread perception of anti-social behaviour, this is rarely at a level where a social landlord would either want to obtain possession or would be successful in an application for possession;
- Our approach to the management of anti-social behaviour is to work with perpetrators to change their behaviour and apply other sanctions such as Acceptable Behaviour Contracts, Injunctions, Anti-Social Behaviour Orders, Demoted Tenancies and Suspended Possession Orders; and
- Eviction is often a pointless exercise as the perpetrator can usually obtain a private sector tenancy in the same locality.

4.2. Analysis of all evictions

The following tables provide profiling information on all 47 evictions:

Table 1 gives a breakdown of all evictions by length of tenancy. This shows that 20 evictions, equating to 43% of all evictions, were of tenants occupying their tenancy for less than two years. Of these 8 (17%) were within the first year of their tenancy.

4.4 Analysis of Evictions for reasons other than for rent Arrears

During the period 1 April to 30 September 2007 there were two evictions for reasons other than for non payment of rent and the details are contained at the end of the report. These evictions took place in May and June.

Contraventions of the tenancy agreement leading to eviction were as follows:

Rossington Property abandoned following action taken to enforce the Tenancy Agreement

Mexborough Noise nuisance and anti-social behaviour

The details of the cases are as follows:

Case 1 : Rossington

The tenancy was held by a white British couple aged 54 and 59; they have three children and held the tenancy for a period of 28 years. The property was not kept in a very good condition with rubbish in the garden and the children caused anti-social behaviour in the neighbourhood. Action was taken to enforce the Tenancy Agreement and the family abandoned the property and moved to the Leicester area leaving substantial rent arrears. Attempts were made to contact the family, but this was unsuccessful so an application was made to court for possession. The eviction took place on 17 May 2007.

Case 2 : Mexborough

The tenancy was held by a single white British man, 35 years of age. He held the tenancy for a period of 23 months and during this time he contravened the tenancy agreement on many occasions as a result of playing loud music and general acts of anti-social behaviour including abusive language to both the Estates Officer and the Police. This behaviour continued after the service of notice, therefore the case was entered into court where St. Leger Homes and the Police both worked in partnership to provide evidence. The eviction took place on 27 June 2007. The tenant left with rent arrears of £1500.
